Sat Mar 25 Event – Brookton Motor Show Weekend @ Hillside:

Report and photos by Maureen Hurrleim

We had yet another very enjoyable weekend at Hillside with 26 Members, 3 Visitors along with 4 Dogs (Jessie, Missy, Thor and Gerri). Most arriving on Fri afternoon, with a few arriving on Sat.

O Burns Beach Steve, when O Steve went to connect his gas bottle, he noted that his O ring had disintegrated, I advised him to chat with our Visitor Mike, who normally has everything, Mike had a O ring but it was smaller than the one on there, I called Allan W to ask if he had a spare O ring, he didn't, Allan suggested checking with Dave Clark, who had a spare one that fitted. Thank you, Dave Clark, for saving the day for O BBSteve.

Friday was a lovely day, with sunny spells.

Pre-dinner drinks were scheduled at 4pm on

Elisa, Dave C, Carol & Jane

Dieter, Mike, Estelle, Richard & Kylie

Maureen, Joe & Elisa

Dave & Steve W & Rufus

After dinner some went back onto the veranda to chat, while other sat around chatting in the lower paddock, Allan W went for walkabout to the lower paddock but didn't tell Alison, when Alison realised that Allan hadn't returned, she began to fret so she went in search of him, firstly checking the toilet, then their caravan, he eventually turned up to Alison's relief!

On Sat morning Keith Richards arrived at Hillside to say hello before heading off to the show, most people went to the show while others had a drive into Brookton to visit the sites, i.e. A Giant Horse and Ginormous farming machinery!

Richard said that he and others were disappointed at the show, because as they were arriving around 11am some of the exhibits i.e. Classic Cars Torino or old tractors where driving away, he thought that they should have at

Pre-dinner drinks where again scheduled at 4pm on the veranda, the weather was lovely. The plan was that at 6pm all were going to come back onto the veranda to eat our own food together but the weather had other ideas, at 5.30pm most had gone back to their caravan/van to prepare/finish/heat their dinner and most luckily decided to put away their canopy and pack away their outside chairs, floor mats, because at 5.50pm the sky opened up and the rain poured down, in & around, the veranda blinds and protection had to be put quickly in place as Dave Clark had not cleaned his gutters as Penny had wanted, the rain had nowhere to go but everywhere, I mean everywhere!, all the furniture on the veranda had to be moved as the rain was falling between the house and the veranda.

Carol Clark called Debby and Andrew to advise that their canopy was collapsing so they had to run to their caravan to save their dinner!

Saturday evening storm!

17 vehicles, 5 visitors

6th April

Most met at the Lakes and travelled in convoy to Yellowdine camp stopping at Merredin for Lunch. When we arrived Larry and Jane were already set up. Tony, John Stoffels and Andrew and Debbie

7th April

All were to meet in Kalgoorlie for 1 PM departure.

I left earlier than the rest but was held up by slow moving traffic and witnessing a caravan rollover. After rendering assistance, calling emergency services etc., we left and met everyone in Kalgoorlie.

Departing Kalgoorlie we headed out Yarri road towards Laverton stopping short of Sunrise dam where we camped for the night. Enroute we witnessed the most glorious Rainbow. It was extremely vivid appeared ahead of us

8th April

The next morning we headed to Laverton via the causeway across Lake Carey and past Sunrise Dam Mine Site to refuel

After refuelling vehicles and bodies we proceeded to the Lake Rayson road. Andrew and Debbie left the convoy. We stopped at Burtville to find a historic site (The Burtville Arch), but it was nowhere to be found. We followed an old haul road for some distance before veering back onto the Lake Rayson track. There were a number of small water holes to navigate, but the road base was solid. We found a camp at Mallen Hen Rocks.

9th April

The next morning was a lazy pack up and departure with most checking out the waterhole and surrounding rock.

We carried on towards Lake Rayson We stopped for lunch as John was having electrical issues (no windows or air conditioning) We could not find the fault, so Alan managed to get the electric windows down.

John led the convoy to avoid the dust and spotted a couple of emus and a Thorny Devil on the track. We finally arrived at Lake Rayson camp where we found a very well setup hut (Shower spare food, water long life milk and alcohol) Richard Managed to stake a tyre. on the way in. So he set about changing his tyre while I tried diagnosing Johns electrical issues. Finally found the offending fuse and now all OK.

10th April

Larry and Jane decided to leave and head back the way we came as they a commitment back in Perth. We left Lake Rayson and headed to Plumridge Lakes We stopped off at Tiger trap gully which had a large cave at the end. We did Carrying on we entered the Plumridge lakes nature reserve. An interesting note is that one of our visitors, Robert Walker made this sign. He knew this by the way it was engraved.

We stopped for Lunch at an old abandoned Airfield and after lunch continued on taking one wrong turn before finding the error of our ways. Further on Greg Tippett staked a tyre. And while changing the tyre, found that the wheel nuts from the after market rims did not fit his factory spare. After taking random nuts from other vehicles, we managed to get the tyre back onto the car.

Later that day we were looking for another airfield but could not find it so we found a camp on the side of the road.

11th April.

Continued on to Plumridge lakes with the track narrowing and winding its way through the nature Reserve. We finally reached Plumridge Lakes.

Quite spectacular, but the photos do not do it justice.

. Steve Sharp tried disappearing down a rabbit hole (Alice in Wonderland)

We left Plumridge lakes and carried on towards the Connie Sue and onto the cut Road. We stopped at several wrecks and found various wheel nuts, but none fitted Greg's car.

The cut road varied from good high speed road to rocky and Bulldust. Dave Clark managed to pinch his 20" tyres on the rim .

Further up Steve Bly found a spare tyre of the same diameter of Richard's rims on the road. We found camp and another burnt out vehicle, and this time we found the correct wheel nuts. Steve Bly then gave Richard a lesson in replacing a tyre. Alas the tyre was leaking.

Steve Bly also gave us a demonstration on the strength of a condom

12th April

Left camp and headed to Kitchener and Zanthus. From Zanthus Dave, Greg & Lyn, Richard and Kylie headed off to Kalgoorlie to get new tyres. Tony also left us. The rest of us were going to go down the Zanthus-Baladonia road, but we met a some caravanner's who advised us the road was closed. We made some calls and found that it was, so we headed to Kalgoorlie to refuel. Steve and Sue Morris and Alan also decided to leave us as we were not going to the Bilbuinna Dunes. We decided to abandon our planned trip to the Bilbunna dunes and instead

13th April

Arrived at Mungalup Beach caravan park and set up camp. That night a storm came in.

14th April

We did a day run along the coast at Lake Shaster nature reserve. Paul and Mark went fishing. We drove down various tracks and onto the beach where I managed to get bogged. We had planned to go out in the afternoon but it had got late and the weather was setting in. Many shifted camp into the caravan area for protection. We packed up our tent and hired a cabin as our sleeping gear was wet.

15th. April

Paul got wet, so he and the rest of us decided to head home.

This was a very social trip. A bit disappointed in the lack of animal life

Thanks to everyone for a great trip.

Sat 29 April Event – Pizza & Wine @ Jane Brook:

Report and photos by Maureen Hurrelim

There was a great turnout of 39 members and visitors with everyone enjoying the Pizza & Wine event.

We started off the evening with the planning meeting, so thanks to those who volunteered to be the Trip Leader for the July, Aug and Nov trips.

We have a variety of Prawns, Chilli, Meat Lovers, Hawaiian Pizzas to choose from, which everyone enjoyed.

The weather was mild, but Keith R had organised a fire which everyone took advantage off to warm up as it got cooler.

Phil and Sue Morris created a Damper award which was presented to Greg and Lyn the first winners of this inaugural prize.

Inaugural Damper Award to Greg & Lyn Tippett

Now, Keith and Therese have lived in this house for 16 years, but at one stage when Therese trying to squeeze past Richard, she completely forgot there was a garden bed and fell backwards onto it, Richard kindly helped Therese to get out of her garden bed, she said she was not injured, but complained because she has spilled her wine!

Marian left and completely forgot her handbag, it was suggested that they call Marian, but it would have been of no use as Marian's mobile was in her handbag.

Lake Mason Community Service project and long weekend trip.

Report and Photos by John and Penny Stoffels

Friday 2nd June 2023 to Tuesday 6th June

The following members met at Bindoon Bakery at 10am to begin a trip to Lake Mason which is between Sandstone and Wiluna. Members were: Vlado and Audrey, Bruce, Barbara and John and Penny.

We made our first night alongside an old tank/cattle yard that was set back off the Paynes Find / Sandstone Road. As is our usual custom, plenty of firewood was collected for an awesome Campfire.

Lake Mason is an abandoned homestead now managed by DPAW. The whole area that is used for camping is cleared apart from a few trees. There is a beautiful house (which we were told was a hotel in Sandstone and was transported and re-erected on that Station. It has been uninhabited for approximately, 15 years. There are many outbuildings installed. of a Shearers Shed, Shearers Accommodation, Camp Kitchen with adjoining rooms, a single flushing toilet and a double shower shed with hot running showers (heated from a "donkey" that in a previous trip, John and Richard had fixed up and installed a new flue.)

Next morning, we headed off towards Sandstone doing the tourist circuit which was "The Battery", "The Brewery" and "London Bridge". From there, we went into Sandstone for lunch, coffee, fuel etc. before heading out to Lake Mason a distance of approx., 55 kms.

When we arrived, Joe and Elise and Archie and Karen were already there and set up. Until that moment, we had experienced beautiful weather with no flies, but the moment we got there; we were inundated with flies. Thankfully, they disappeared as night fell and we had a lovely calm evening with a full moon.

Next day (Sunday), everyone pitched in to do various maintenance jobs around the Station. Barb got busy repairing the fences, so as to keep the wildlife and stray stock from coming into the house yards. Bruce did a heap of whipper snipping around the house and other areas around the campsite.

Windows were boarded up where necessary, rooms swept out, the house bathroom cleaned etc. Repairs were made to stop vermin from getting under and into the house. Audrey did a wonderful job cleaning out the Campers Kitchen area and getting rid of unnecessary rubbish (which we burnt or took to the tip).

Karen was very popular when she made a delicious batch of scones with jam and cream for our morning tea. After lunch, the day was spent relaxing etc.

That evening was again calm and serene.

Monday started off well, but the wind slowly started to pick up. We all went for a drive to find the lake, which we did after a bit of bush bashing. Unfortunately, we could not get close to the lake due to the very muddy tracks and low-lying water everywhere.

Came back to camp, where Joe and Elise and Archie and Karen decided to head off on their next adventure.

Perth was getting a hammering from a strong front that day, so we were getting the edge of it as the wind just kept getting stronger. We all took refuge on the veranda of the camp kitchen for the afternoon. The gusts were incredible and whipped up the red pindan dust over everything. Barb had to pack-up her camper trailer, so she set herself up to sleep in her swag in the camp kitchen area in front of the fire. Some rain came in that night, so next morning, we all packed up and headed in different directions.

John and Penny.
