TRIP & SOCIAL REPORTS

New Year's Brunch

By Archie Lind

Sunday Jan 15th, 2017

The New Year's Brunch event started quite a few years ago. With many club members travelling away over the Christmas/New Year period, larger events were hard to arrange during that time.

So, this was a laid-back way for the less-lucky people to get together and ease into the new year. For the first few years it was held by the beach at Waterman's Bay but as numbers dropped over the years we decided a change of venue was called for. As several members and past members had moved (a long way) south of the river over the years, we decided to give Falcon Bay near Mandurah a try (obviously for selfish reasons of course!). It proved a very popular move and the event was well supported.

The main issue is that January is normally very hot and even though it was on the beach and we had several gazebos, lack of shade was a bit of a problem. So, after a couple of years we again changed venue.

This year's brunch was held at the new Egret Point Park on the Peel Estuary just under the Mandurah Bypass bridge. The park was created as part of a new housing estate and is probably the nicest picnic place anywhere in the Peel region. There are plenty of grassed areas with large shady trees, new toilets, gazebos, bbqs, walking paths, exercise stations and a huge children's playground. There are even table tennis tables and hammocks. And all right on the waterfront where you can swim, fish or launch a kayak.

Again, the event was well supported with about 20 club members and visitors attending even though it's a good hour's drive on a Sunday morning. The weather was perfect and luckily, we managed to get there early to reserve the largest gazebos before the (other) locals arrived. There were lot of yummy breakfasts and bbq brunches consumed, and even a bottle of bubbly or two.

The water was well used for swimming and kayaking by Simons and Mira's children but poor Lesley only managed to catch one old demented looking crab in her drop nets. The table tennis and playground also proved very popular but the black rubber hammocks were at tad too hot to use out in the sun.

It seems everyone enjoyed the new venue and stayed for quite a few hours. So, I think we will probably repeat the event here again next year. Unless of course we end up with a new social secretary that lives in the northern suburbs!!!

Valentines/Pool Party

Saturday, February 18

Ron & Angela's

The day/evening started sometime after 4PM

The first game was String through your clothes followed find the water bottle in the pool and bobbing apple in the pool I think the dogs got more apples than the contestants

Much merriment and laughter ensued!

Kym and Glenda arrived in time for the bobbing apple game after a marathon drive from the other side of Norseman. (Such commitment)

The next game involved a couple of balloons tied around your ankles and then trying to pop each other's balloons. Some contestants were having trouble with the balloons popping when they touched the grass. A bit of deflation was required and the games began, complete with strategy and cheating.

A BAR B Q followed with the usual Wanneroo Wanderers accompaniment of food followed by club supplied deserts

After desert Angela and Barb had seconds which was delivered in what can only be described as the best food fight ever. More Laughter.

The next round of games commenced after Angela and Barb cleaned themselves up.

These included, Pin the lips on the frog, Swing the potato, Pass the parcel.

Again. strategy and cheating was required.

Thanks to Ron & Ang for hosting the event.

Thanks to Marion for the decorations

Australia Day Long Weekend 2017

By Karen and Archie Lind

Hosts - Ken & Linda Zeffert

I know that I mention this a lot BUT we truly are blessed to have club members who have properties where we can gather as a club for events such as this.

Some members decided to have an extra day camping before getting to Pemberton. Keith and Marian did some research and found Norm Lindsay Reserve near Greenbushes. It's a large well treed camping area with a swimming hole, boardwalks, toilet block, and even a kid's playground. And importantly – Free. Six caravans arrived at this lovely setting with a very refreshing pool/dam for swimming in.

As it was quite warm/hot a number of us put on our bathers and hit the water.....beautiful. It was hard to get out but happy hour was calling.....and WW can't miss happy hour, can they?

The next morning everyone decided that their morning bath would again be in the pool/dam. It was still hard to get out but morning tea was calling.....and WW can't miss morning tea, can they?

And of course, we were already awake early anyway as Keith had a flat tyre on his caravan and decided to use an air compressor as a morning wake up alarm.

Wednesday saw most of the members arrive at Ken and Linda's property; this was one of the biggest turnouts we have ever had with 32 members and 2 guests. This is a testament to how much our members love coming here.

It was a reasonably quiet night up on the deck easing our way into the weekend. A few of the boys decided to sample some single malt scotches and dribble on about the merits of the different styles - smoky, peaty, sweet. Who cares, as long as there is a bottle with the cork out!

Thursday saw a number of us head into Pemberton town for the free Australia Day breakfast and community awards presentations. Always a good breakfast here with bacon, sausage, eggs, toast, tea and coffee. We have attended these events each year and marvel at the generosity of the town to its visitors.

A few of us headed down to the town swimming pool to help the local organisers set up the floating stage for the afternoon concert artists. It all went very well until Keith leaned over the edge of the stage and watched his sunglasses disappear into the cold murky water. Of course, that was hilarious to the rest of us, especially as he had asked Marian to hold in normal glasses but forgot that his sunglasses were up on his hat!! I think it took longer to retrieve the glasses than it did to set up the stage.

Later in the afternoon we headed back to the town swimming pool for the evening concert and pumpkin rolling competition. A number of our members put their hands up to try the pumpkin rolling; apparently, it isn't as easy as it looks!

Spectators become targets as the pumpkins head towards the finish line, as Bob and Lesley found out as they sat quietly on a hay bale at the side of the track. It was almost as if the pumpkins had built in radars/magnets directing them towards Bob and Lesley. Just as well you are both nimble enough to get out of the way. The music on offer was also very good with a number of the crowd joining in with the singing. Ice creams and scones with jam and cream were also popular.

Back at camp after the concert and festivities, a number of brave souls participated in the Australia Day Quiz. With lots of questions in many different categories there was a chance for everyone to excel.....or so I thought!

How was it that Keith and Marian didn't know the answer to EVERY Country and Western music question? How could Ray Z know so little about his place of birth? How can so many people talk nonstop during the quiz?

There were a number of prizes with Janet (Linda's sister) coming first, Linda second (obviously they are a genius family), Sue & David third, Marlyn fourth and Ray Z last. Hopefully Donna's photo will be printed showing Ray wearing his prize of a mankini. A lot of laughs were had during the night and I'm sure a fair bit of cheating went on but all in the name of a good time.

Friday saw a number of the group head out for some 4WDing. Eight cars in all trundled out along the Vasse Hwy and turned off towards the infamous Cailcup sand dune. The track was a little soft in places and eventually a few of us had to let a second lot of air out to negotiate a couple of short sharp sand hills on the approach to the dunes. Steve, Alan and Paul stopped at the top of Cailcup hill which made it a bit crowded with another group already there, so the other 5 cars headed straight down the dune. It's certainly a lot easier going down than up the hill that's for sure. Just before the little hill about halfway down the dune, the track had lots of offset ruts which made the cars and occupants wobble around side-to-side like jelly on a plate and gave us all a great laugh. The 5 of us waited at the bottom of the hill for the others but heard Steve over the radio with an ominous warning. "Alan, don't move!!". "No, I can get it out of here" he replied. Steve came back again, "Alan, don't move at all!!". Somehow Alan had managed to get his Troopy bouncing sideways over the corner of the middle hill and was half-hanging in mid-air. Alison was obviously shaken and scared to be looking out with nothing but blue sky to see. Paul and Steve attached winches to the Troopy to prevent it sliding over and managed to extract Alison from the car. It became quite an exercise in recovery with the weight of the Troopy and the sand so much that it just pulled the recovery vehicles forward. Another car came along and used their winch as an anchor to the first vehicle and they managed to pull the Troopy back to safety.

The rest of us decided that it was taking so long that morning tea was in order while we listened to the recovery going on over the radio. More delicious homemade cakes and biscuits were devoured. Eventually we were all at the bottom of the hill but I'm sure Alison needed a stiffer drink than a cup of tea. Luckily Kerri had a Mintie lolly in the car which was appropriately presented to Alan for his morning tea!!

After that we made our way onto the beach and headed towards Warren river mouth (except for Bruce who turned left instead of right! Thank goodness for CB radios). The weather on the beach was fantastic, not the usual sea gale that we are normally greeted with down there. We parked up by the river and had lunch while Rufus chased the ball non-stop.

The afternoon saw us heading south and eventually crossing the mouth of the creek. It was shallow and firm but flowing quite fast. The breaking waves were coming up the beach into the creek at the same time. Most people managed to time the crossing ok but a couple managed to generate quite a big splash when hitting an incoming wave - All part of the fun. By mid-afternoon we managed to locate the start of the Summertime Track and were soon on our way homewards. The masses of kangaroo paws and other wildflowers was one of the biggest displays we ever seen and they were obviously enjoying the unusual summer weather conditions. That track always seems to take forever to cover but eventually made it back to the highway. A final coffee stop while we pumped up tyres and then was onto the highway with us looking forward to a very cold beer and the big dinner planned for dinner that night.

Meanwhile back at the ranch the rest of us had a super lazy day. Late showers, copious cups of tea, coffee and snacks at different sites, lazy lunch followed by little naps and then preparation for happy hour. A perfect day in the life of Karen!!

That night we had a massive shared meal with everyone contributing so many delicious dishes in true WW style. Feasting, drinking and laughing are what the club does best. And all of those things went well on into the night. A great end to a great day.

Saturday – Mark and Ray tried to summon up a cricket game to promote traditional Aussie activities but didn't get a lot of takers. Perhaps people might have come closer if Ray hadn't been wearing that mankini.....

After a lazy breakfast and relaxed morning most of us headed off to Hidden River winery to celebrate Marlyn's birthday. The food was fantastic and despite being over 30 of us, we were all served in double quick time. The staff looked after us very well and they even let the dogs come along at their own special table to help with the celebrations. A return visit is a must!

It was another wonderful warm day down in Pemberton, certainly the best long spell of good weather we've had down there that we can remember. So, a trip to Big Brook Dam was called for a refreshing swim and relax in the shade of the beautiful Karri trees.

That night we had the traditional, if belated, Australia Day barbeque with lots of yummy Aussie lamb and other tasty steaks and snags. Vegetarians don't waste your time here!

Sunday

A number of the members decided on an easy sightseeing drive today; driving along the picturesque (but dusty) Heartbreak Trail and a few other nearby areas.

A visit to wineries is always a bonus and we dropped into Donnelly River winery and Silkwood winery on our way back to camp. A number of bottles of wines were purchased and some even enjoyed that night. The young Brazilian couple on their honeymoon that came into the tasting room at Donnelly River must have wondered what they had stumbled into. I think we spent so much time talking to them and asking about their travels, they hardly had a chance to sample any wines.

Unfortunately, the avocados were not in season due to the strange summer weather we've had this year. On Linda's recommendation, we stopped in at the huge strawberry farm on the way back. At the rear is the packing shed with dozens of backpackers hard at work. Any strawberries not quite up to standard are put in large boxes and sold off for $10. We calculated there was the equivalent of at least 20 punnets in the box so they were fantastic value. And we couldn't tell why they were rejected. They were big and delicious and plenty to share around the whole camp.

Monday

As with any great event it must come to an end and today saw everyone leave after having had a wonderful time.

As sad as it is, it seems the WW are getting a little bit older now and the stamina to stay up until the wee small hours or sunrise are long gone, I think the latest this time was about 1.30am. Though that doesn't mean the hours beforehand aren't fun and interesting; a serious amount of scotch, wine and other alcohols are still consumed along with lots of fun and laughter.

Once again, a BIG thank you to Ken and Linda for hosting us all and hopefully we will be invited back next year for the 2018 Australia Day week.

Point Road Camp Boranup Forest

March 4th - 6th

Alan & Alison, Mark Bolton, Ray Z, Shane & Cherril Ryan & Kevin, Bob & Lesley

We left Perth 9am Friday to save sites for the weekend. Arriving at Point Road at 12:45 pm, noting not many sites left so we quickly set up and placed tables & chairs about to save enough sites for us all. Ray arrived soon after & set up. Bob & Ray chatted to the other campers while I went for a walk to the coast. After tea, we were entertained by the Possums coming down the trees to eat fruit from our hands.

Saturday 4th

Alan & Alison arrived about 10am, Shane & Cherril, Ryan & Kevin followed soon after. Mark arrived in time to have some lunch before we set off to Bobs Hollow via Point & Boranup Roads to Cave Rd and into the Rocky scratchy Bob Hollow Track. After arriving at the park area Shane was inspecting damage to front and rear plastic panels which were easily put back into place. From here it was a bit of a walk to the fishing place down a chain rope to the bottom. After a good look, around and a paddle it was back up the cliff and walk to the cars to tackle the rocky road back in time for refreshments at Lake Cave. Continuing Conto Road we stopped at Conto Spring & South Beach before heading back to camp by 4pm for happy hour, tea and more possum spotting.

Sunday 5th

Left camp 8.30am for Willyabrup Cliffs and parked up, Cherril & Kevin stayed to mind the Vehicles while the rest of us took off on foot to the cliffs along with a lot of assailers. Spent some time watching the assailers then went down to the stairs to the brook and rocks back up the stairs along the track to the cars for a quick morning tea and on to Old Ellenbrook Homestead where we had lunch. After lunch, it was off to Kilcarnup where tyres were deflated to take the track into Joeys Nose. Stopping on the beach where Ray & Mark took a walk along the beach to check out the bikini girls! Next stop was Cape Mentelle here Kevin took Shane along the track to view the cliff face. Back out the track to inflate the tyres before heading back to camp via Conto Road. On the way, Mark lured two young ladies walking the Cape to Cape Track into his vehicle to put them on the right track. Came back with a smile on his face soon to be removed by Ray throwing iced water on him! Happy hour and more possum feeding followed.

Monday 6th

8:15 Alan & Alison left for Dunsbough while the rest of us took a drive through the forest to Donnybrook and onto Gnomesville to show Kevin & Ryan, after being Gnomed out it was homeward bound.

Great camp site, Great weather, Great company! Thank You All for making the weekend enjoyable

Bob & Lesley.

Crabbing Weekend

Held at Estuary Hideaway Caravan Park
March 24 to, March 25, 2017

When we arrived around 2pm on Friday followed by Joe and Elisa. John & Marlyn Corduroy and Chris & Ray Scarce were already setup. Joe managed to park in a spot which was to prove difficult to exit from later in the weekend. Power for our site was so far away, we had to borrow and extension lead from the park owner. Later that day, Chris, Cara and their two children arrived along with Cara's Parents.

Karen & Archie arrived mid-afternoon to engage in some social activity, but chose the comfort of their own bed, rather than the caravan

The usual happy hour ensued followed by tea and more social activity or so I am told as the combination of weeks of renovating, a little red wine caused me to fall asleep in my dinner. That my excuse and I am sticking to it. So, I managed to wander off to bed and fall into a deep sleep fully clothed. When Glenda retired to find me sprawled across the bed, Joe also appeared and apparently tried to wake me up. This is all hearsay as I know not what transpired, suffice to say that I did wake up enough to go to bed properly.

Saturday was a bright sunny day, and I was as fit as a fiddle (no hangover), so after a breakfast, we took Charlie Brown for a walk along the foreshore. I had brought my Kayak, so after morning tea, I got it ready and went for a paddle. Later Glenda went for a paddle followed by Archie who had arrived back for the day's festivities. By this time, we had been notified that the bore had failed and there was no water for showers and for a short time in the afternoon, no water for flushing. This was the only down side of the weekend, but sxxx happens.

After Archie had his paddle, he said there were a lot of crabs out there. By this time, Bob & Leslie had arrived for the day.

Returning to the camp site, Ray Scarce had prepared his crab nets and kindly offered them to me to deploy. After receiving some instructions on deployment as I had never been crabbing before, I took the nets and a floating container for the crabs and nets and under instruction from Archie proceeded out to deploy the nets. However, Archie's depth of field is obviously skewed as he indicated to deploy the nets much further out than where he had done his paddling. After deploying the nets, I returned to camp for lunch and give the nets a chance to fill up with crabs. During this time, I spoke to a couple of crabbers who had got three size crabs, and said most were just undersize.

After lunch, I returned to the water to check the nets. Leslie also took her nets out in her kayak, but she was much closer in. Upon checking the pots, I pulled up only two crabs, both of which were undersize. So, I brought the pots in closer nearer where Leslie was set up. After about  $\frac{3}{4}$  hour I pulled up stumps with no crabs to show for it. Oh Well at least I tried. Leslie stayed out a little longer and eventually returned with one crab.

After a short break, Leslie returned to the water along with Chris who borrowed my kayak. After about 1<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> hours they both returned with only a couple of more crabs. Not enough for a feed, so they were given to Chris to cook up for themselves.

Happy hour followed with the usual Wanneroo Wanderers excessive amounts of nibbles. During this time, we were visited by a resident possum

Bob & Leslie left after tea followed by Karen & Archie later that evening

Sunday saw Joe & Elisa, Chris and Cara, Cara's Parents all pack up and leave after an enjoyable couple of days. The Corduroy's and Scarce's stayed on for one more night

Thanks to all who attended and to Karen and Archie for organising the event.

Potatoes

Well, a Girl Potato and Boy Potato had eyes for each other, and finally they got married, and had a little sweet potato, which they called 'Yam'.

Of course, they wanted the best for Yam.

When it was time, they told her about the facts of life. They warned her about going out and getting half-baked, so she wouldn't get accidentally mashed, and get a bad name for herself like 'Hot Potato'.

Yam said not to worry, no Spud would get her into the sack and make a rotten potato out of her!

But on the other hand she wouldn't stay home and become a Couch Potato either.

She would eat properly so as not to be skinny like her Shoestring Cousins.

When she went off to Europe, Mr And Mrs Potato told Yam to watch out for those hard-boiled guys from Ireland and the greasy guys from France called the French Fries, and when she went out West, she must watch out for the Indians so she wouldn't get scalloped.

They sent Yam to Idaho P.U. (that's Potato University ) so that when she graduated she'd really be "in the Chips".

But in spite of all they did for her, one-day Yam came home and announced she was going to marry Shane Warne.

"Shane Warne!!!!" they cried.

They were very upset and told Yam "You can't possibly marry Shane Warne because he's just ..... a COMMENTATOR!"

Giving Up Wine

I was walking down the street when I was accosted by a particularly dirty and shabby-looking homeless woman who asked me for a couple of dollars for dinner.

I took out my wallet, got out ten dollars and asked, 'If I give you this money, will you buy wine with it instead of dinner?'

'No, I had to stop drinking years ago', the homeless woman told me.

'Will you use it to go shopping instead of buying food?' I asked.

'No, I don't waste time shopping,' the homeless woman said. 'I need to spend all my time trying to stay alive.'

'Will you spend this on a beauty salon instead of food?' I asked..

'Are you NUTS!' replied the homeless woman. I haven't had my hair done in 20 years!'

'Well, I said, 'I'm not going to give you the money. Instead, I'm going to take you out for dinner with my husband and me tonight.'

The homeless Woman was shocked. 'Won't your husband be furious with you for doing that? I know I'm dirty, and I probably smell pretty disgusting.'

I said, 'That's okay. It's important for him to see what a woman looks like after she has given up shopping, hair appointments, and wine.'

Baked Potato with Goat's Cheese

Ingredients - serves 2

2 large potatoes

olive oil

salt and freshly ground black pepper

25g butter

1/2 cup spring onions, chopped

1/4 cup parsley, chopped

1/4 cup milk

100g goat's cheese

1/2 cup parmesan cheese

extra parsley

Method

Place potatoes on baking sheet, lightly rub with oil and season well. Place in a 200oC oven and bake until they are golden brown, have a crisp skin and are very tender - allow at least 1 1/2 hours. Cut them in half lengthwise and scoop the flesh into a bowl, leaving enough flesh to give the shell substance. Mash the flesh and add the butter, spring onions, parsley, milk and seasoning. Fold through the goat's cheese and check seasoning. Pile this mixture back into the potato shells and then top with parmesan. Return to the oven and cook until all is hot and the parmesan is lightly brown. Top with the extra parsley and serve on a bed of greens.
